NEW YORK NY: January 9, 2016 — The New Jewish Home, one of the nation's largest and most diversified nonprofit geriatric health and rehabilitation systems, welcomes Gabriel H. Brandeis, MD, CMD, as Senior Director of Medicine.

In a career spanning more than three decades Dr. Gabriel Brandeis has practiced geriatric medicine at nursing homes, medical centers and veterans' hospitals throughout the Boston area. For the past 20 years he has been the nursing home medical director for Boston University Geriatric Services.

Dr. Brandeis has taught at Harvard and Boston universities and his research has been published in the Journal of Aging Research, the Annals of Long-term Care, the Journal of the American Geriatric Society, the Journal of Gerontology, Nursing Home Medicine, and a host of other scholarly publications and books. He has been honored by the American Geriatric Society, the Sanofi-Aventis Foundation and Lunax, among others.

Gabriel Brandeis graduated from the University of Pennsylvania with bachelor's and master's degrees. He holds an MD from what is now the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai. Dr. Brandeis completed an internal medicine residency at SUNY Upstate Medical University in Syracuse and a geriatric fellowship at Harvard Medical School. Subsequently, he joined the faculty at Boston University as Associate Professor of Medicine. He was recently appointed as a clinical professor in the Department of Geriatrics and Palliative Care of the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai.
