The Parker Jewish Institute Hosts Annual Peter Seideman Golf Classic to Benefit Parker Foundation

New Hyde Park, New York, Friday, August 1, 2025 – Parker Jewish Institute for Health Care and Rehabilitation hosted its annual Peter Seideman Golf Classic, on Monday, July 28. The event, held at Fresh Meadow Country Club in Lake Success, raised vital funds to support the Parker Jewish Institute Foundation.

Named in honor of the late Peter Seideman, Parker’s former Chairman of the Board, the event continues his legacy of leadership and generosity. His wife, Barbara Seideman, and grandson, Mory Ashenberg, carry his vision forward by engaging sponsors and donors.

This year’s honoree was Consilium Partners360, recognized for its excellence in providing efficient and high-quality human resources management services. Supporting sponsors included EmPRO Insurance, LI Script LLC and Rampart Insurance Services / The Hilb Group, LLC.

The event featured brunch, an 18-hole tournament in a 1-of-4 best ball format, followed by an elegant cocktail hour and dinner. The day brought together philanthropic leaders, partners and friends of Parker in support of compassionate, world-class health care for older adults.

“The funds raised at the Peter Seideman Golf Classic will directly benefit the thousands of patients and residents who rely on Parker each year,” said Parker Jewish Institute President and CEO Michael N. Rosenblut. “We extend our heartfelt thanks to all participants and contributors for their unwavering commitment that support our many programs and services.”

Parker Jewish Institute proudly congratulates the winners of the 2025 Peter Seideman Golf Classic. Taking first place with a winning score of 56 were John Brown, Cindy Brown, Ben Fraternal and Tom Selenow. Second place went to Vinny Villany, Sean Meadows, Chris Bringmann and Thomas Diamond with a score of 57. In third place, also with a score of 57, were Carley Nathanson, John Lamonica, Brian Fogel and Matthew Graser. Fourth place was awarded to Jake Nudelman, Justin Wachen, Jayen Levy and Noah Grossman, also with a 57. Placements for second through fourth were determined by scorecard playoff. Additional honors went to Brian Nolan and Carly Nathanson for Longest Drive, Michael Webb and Do Kyoung Lee for Closest to the Pin, and Chris Bringmann for Closest to the Line.
