The Parker Jewish Institute debuts new website

New Hyde Park, New York, August 22, 2022 – The Parker Jewish Institute is pleased to announce the launch of its new, innovative website: <https://www.parkerinstitute.org/>.

The new Parker Jewish Institute website features a fresh design, complete with enhanced functionality and back-end technology. These aspects help showcase Parker’s comprehensive inpatient and community health services. They also simplify access to vital community health updates, including Parker’s COVID-19 statistical insights and protocols, as well as registration for Parker’s COVID-19 Drive-Thru Testing and Vaccine Clinics.

The website provides content on becoming an active member of the Parker community, including information for supporters, volunteers and for talent exploring career opportunities at the Institute. And it showcases patient and residents’ experiences at Parker, as well as recommended health and safety tips for the entire community.

“When it comes to health and wellness, people need trusted, easy-to-access information now more than ever. The new website for The Parker Jewish Institute does just that. It delivers that all-important link to the community, demonstrating who we are today and how we continue to meet the ever-evolving needs of patients, residents and their loved ones in the New York metropolitan region,” said Michael N. Rosenblut, Parker’s President and Chief Executive Officer.
